THE FRENCH EMPRESS ON RIBRONS.—THE EMPRESS

Engenic, the French papers by the Niagara state, has resolved to appear in a magnificent costume on the tossession of the wedding of her fair relative to the Due de Malakoff. Her dress is to be profusely trimmed with ribbons, and having become quite enamoved of the ribbon style of embeldishment, she came quite enamoved of the ribbon style of embeldishment, she has requested all the issiles of the Court to follow her example. The quality, colors and peculiarity of the ribbons in question, bowever, are unique, as well as recherche, and elicit universal admiration. We believe nobody has them, in this country, except Lebtensielin. Anticipating the demand that would follow, throughout the world of fashion, for anything so exclusively selected by the taste of the Imperative, the agent of Lebtensielin, in Faris, bought up all the romaining Court ribbons in the foreign market, and they consider the general attraction at the "Temple of La Rode," No. 237 Recondway. Chinese ribbons to make the new fashioned sities is what Lebtensielin always prides hinself upon keeping on hand in a large second mean, for ribbons are now driving all other articles one of consideration as dress trimmings. He is also able to supply every tasse with Paris millimery goods, plain and fancy bonnet sike, satiss, velvets. French howers, couried feathers, &c. Beaders, the holl of the properties of the accounts for the crowd that continually sile his magnetin of novellies.
